Harry:

*but core

sufficiently
spec. dtd.*

The attached paper [REDACTED] describes<sup>25X1A</sup> rather succinctly the concept of core courses that he and his staff have been perfecting and believe are essential to a progressive executive development program (EDP).

As you have previously noted, formal training courses are only small parts of an EDP. Hence, this basic information is submitted to aid you in your overall efforts. OTR is prepared and anxious to work closely with OP in the further perfection of EDP plans.

I suggest that you and Hugh each designate a representative to discuss, refine, and otherwise move ahead on this matter as quickly as possible.
